Top Company 2024: Flottweg Ranked as Desirable Employer by kununu

The Vilsbiburg-based machine manufacturer Flottweg was awarded the title of “Top Company” by the online rating portal kununu. This is now the third time in a row that the separation technology specialist has received this distinction. With a kununu score of 4.0 stars and a referral rate of 85%, the company counts among the top 5% of employers on kununu. The Top Company seal of approval has been awarded since 2015 and is given to businesses that create the best possible working environment for their employees.

Employees and applicants can assess aspects such as work/life balance, career opportunities, or intracompany communication on kununu. kununu’s goal is to make the authentic assessment of companies possible and to provide job-seekers with guidance on the labor market. With nearly 4.94 million users, the online platform is playing an increasingly important role in the digital application process and provides an authentic insight into companies’ working environments.

Flottweg’s Head of Human Resources Michael Jakob is pleased about being recognized: “The award as kununu’s Top Company is a great honor for us. It confirms our continuous efforts as an employer to create a positive culture for our employees. With numerous benefits such as bonuses, a childcare allowance, and attractive further education and training offers, Flottweg is a popular employer in the greater Landshut area.” With around 1,200 employees worldwide and 950 personnel at the site in Vilsbiburg, Flottweg has a long-serving workforce and low staff turnover at the same time.
