Most family-friendly companies in 2022: Flottweg receives award

Compatibility of job and family and achieving work/life balance are playing an increasingly important role for employees: Flottweg has now once again been named one of the most family-friendly companies by the employer rating platform 'kununu' and the magazine 'freundin' in 2022. Around 700 companies in Germany and Austria were evaluated according to a special set of criteria to examine the family-friendliness of employers. This year, the seal of quality was awarded for the seventh time by freundin and kununu. In total, more than 2 million ratings of 175,000 companies in Germany and Austria were included in the study this year, providing the basis for producing the ranking.

The award is a source of great satisfaction for the separation technology specialist: "At Flottweg, it is particularly important for us to create a working environment for our employees in which they can reconcile family and career," explains Michael Jakob, Head of Human Resources. "A firmly established work-from-home model, childcare allowance and our variable working hours with flexitime are just a few of the many benefits we offer our employees. That's what makes us one of the region's most popular employers, and working together on an equal footing has been an integral part of Flottweg's DNA for decades."

freundin Editor-in-Chief Anke Helle explains the background to the award: "When choosing an employer, the compatibility of family and career is a top priority for many employees. By awarding the seal, freundin honors particularly family-friendly companies, thus providing readers with useful guidance in today's job market." Editor-in-Chief Mateja Mögel adds: "Particularly in today's world, family-friendliness is an important value for employers in order to operate successfully even in crisis situations. For the award-winning companies, it demonstrates great appreciation of their employees and a responsible approach to the workforce."
