

Flottweg Opens New Subsidiary in Peru

Vilsbiburg, 09.09.2015 - Flottweg SE is founding a subsidiary in Peru to reinforce its presence in the South American market. The centrifuge manager finds this the next step in building out their global sales network.

The new company, Flottweg Peru SAC, was founded in April, 2015, and will now start operational activities under the leadership of Luis Pacheco. The subsidiary consists of its own office as well as a workshop and workshop warehouse.

"This step is our response to the positive business trends in South America. With our own service team, our own contacts, and a workshop, we will be able to offer our customers the support they need," explains Christian Pecher, Head of Sales pro tem at Flottweg SE.

The office has a central location in the Miraflores district of the city. The workshop and its warehouse will significantly reduce downtime in case of malfunctions. The service team will be able to work either on-site with the customer or in the workshop.

Peru is one of Flottweg's most important markets in South America. Over a hundred centrifuges are already in operation there. The primary fields of application are the fishing industry, but also mining and agriculture.
